Peter:
Thumbs up. See you there. Apologies not necessary. It was my error in leaving the subject heading as it was. Not a problem.
I think you might like the steakhouse. If not, we can go back over to Panera.
Cheers,
Lou

My apologies. I meant to say 1pm at Texas Long Horn.

My bad. I previously left Panera in the subject heading -- so I'm not certain which place you chose between the two. Panera or Texas Steakhouse?

Tuesday (10/27) at 1PM is fine. How about just down the street, at the Texas Longhorn Steakhouse? Let me know. Otherwise, Panera will work.
TLHSH is a bit more spacious. That's all.

Cheers,

Let's shoot for tomorrow at 1:00pm. Is Panera ok or would you prefer elsewhere?
You did show me the Federal Connection but I did not photograph it.

Good morning Peter:

I had a great day on Thursday. Thanks for asking. I hope you did too.

It's you're call on the next meeting time and day. So far this week, my schedule is pretty open.

Thank you for the two return photos of the documents that I brought to our last meeting. I hope you're having success in finding that one, and that it is helpful in your queries.
Did I also show you the set of documents called: "The Federal Connection" (in two parts)? I thought that I had but didn't see a photo of it. Anyway.
That group of documents are also important, and really a part of the Hazardous Waste compendium book that I showed you. They are companions, along with a couple of others that I will share when we meet next. All were compiled by the NYS Assembly back in the day (late 1970s-early 1980s) as a result of the Love Canal incident(s) which initiated the Superfund program.
One of the docs. took me a decade (2001 to 2011) to get my hands on the complete report.

Looking forward to our next meet.

Regards,
Lou Ricciuti

Good Morning Lou,
How was your Thanksgiving? I am checking in with you to inquire on your availability to meet this week to continue our discussion on NFB. With the exception of Wednesday, I'm fairly flexible this entire week.
What day and time works best for you?
